

Southwest Aviation Weather Safety Workshop III

At the Salt River Project in Phoenix, Arizona

Join the National Weather Service (NWS) as we bring together the Southwest U.S. aviation and weather forecasting communities to promote aviation safety and productivity through improved weather awareness and forecasting services.

Aviator & Controller Weather Workshop

- April 22, 2010 – 8:00 am to 4:00 pm
- Topics: Weather hazard anticipation & safety, understanding new forecasts/tools, & more
- Presenters from the NWS, AWC, FAA, & guests
- Earn WINGS Pilot Proficiency Program credit
- Cost – Free! (Optional catered lunch - $16)

Social Dinner

- April 22, 2010 – 5:30 to 8:30 pm
- Optional, casual gathering to build and further develop relationships among National Aerospace System partners & customers
- Nearby restaurant; walking distance from hotel

Aviation Weather Forecasting Workshop

- April 23, 2010 – 8:00 am to 3:00 pm
- Topics: GA, Airline & ATC needs; innovative decision support services; leveraging current & future technology; verification; & more
- Presenters: NWS, FAA, Airlines, & guests
- Cost – Free! (Optional catered lunch - $16)

For more information, registration & accommodations, please monitor:

www.wrh.noaa.gov/psr/saws/saws.php

